

Sociology of everyday life – dr Joanna Bielecka-Prus

Course duration: one semester

Number of ECTS credits: 4.0

Course description: Everyday life is by and large very routine and taken for granted and it is rarely a subject of deep research. This course aims to show just how important the ordinary can be, give introduction to theoretical debates on everyday life and methods of conducting research. We will engage in the investigation of different everyday activities (f.e. walking, eating, resting) with the aim to find patterns of social order.
