List of published academic papers or creative professional works and a description of accomplishments in teaching, research collaboration and science popularisation

I. List of publications being scientific accomplishments as defined by Article 16, item 2 of the Act:

A) Title of the scientific accomplishment:

The monograph entitled „O prawie słuszny (perspektywa systemu prawa stanowionego)”/On equitable law (the perspective of the system of statutory law).

B) Publications which contributed to a scientific accomplishment:

- 1) Wojciech Dziedziak, Lublin 2015, O prawie słuszny (perspektywa systemu prawa stanowionego)/On equitable law (the perspective of the system of statutory law), Wydawnictwo Uniwersytetu Marii Curie-Skłodowskiej, ss. 309.

My contribution included establishing and selecting the research problem, developing a new substantial approach to the issue discussed in the monograph, adopting the concept of the work, selecting appropriate methodology of the approach to the research problem, writing the monograph, editing and having the monograph published by a professional publishing house.

I estimate my percentage contribution at 100%.

II. List of other published scientific research works (not being part of the achievement included under item I) and indication of scientific accomplishments:

A) Scientific publications in journals included in Journal Citation Reports (JRC) or enlisted by the European Reference Index for the Humanities (ERIH):

none

B) Monographs, scientific publications in international or national journals other than discussed under item II A:

I) Achievements in teaching and popularising science or arts:

One of such achievements is the development of the clinical method of teaching law. I have been the head of the Legal Clinic at the Faculty of Law and Administration of Maria Curie-Skłodowska University since its establishment in February 2001. The fundamental objective of the clinical method of teaching law as recognised by the Clinic is to teach law through practice (the educational aim); another complementary aim of the Clinic is to provide free legal counselling to poor people (the charity aim). The Clinic's other activities include among other things:

The organisation of the session „Legal security of the bank's receivables” at the Faculty of Law and Administration at Maria Curie-Skłodowska University in Lublin (27 March 2001);

Conducting mock court proceedings in a civil case at the Faculty of Law and Administration at Maria Curie-Skłodowska University in Lublin (25 May 2011);

The public presentation of mock mediation proceedings in a civil case at the Faculty of Law and Administration at Maria Curie-Skłodowska University in Lublin (27 May 2014);

Preparing and delivering a series of lectures on human rights for secondary school students by the Clinic's student members outside the Faculty of Law and Administration at

Maria Curie-Skłodowska University in Lublin;

Organising training sessions and workshops in psychological skills for the Clinic's students;

The participation of the Clinic's students in a series of training courses in preparing statements of case, and in a meeting with an interpreter and teacher of the sign language;

The presentation of the Clinic's activity by the Clinic's members at the Lublin Festival of Science, the Open Days of Maria Curie-Skłodowska University, the Night of Universities and the Reunion of Former Students of Maria Curie-Skłodowska University.

Furthermore, the Clinic's member students participated in approximately 30 various conferences, mainly national ones. They also represented the Clinic at international conferences.

Moreover, as regards my teaching activities, I have run courses in the Introduction to Legal Sciences in the Department of Law at the Faculty of Law and Administration at Maria Curie-Skłodowska University in Lublin throughout the whole period of my employment, i.e. since 1991. I also used to run courses in Theory of State and Law at the same Department. For several years I have also run courses in Introduction to Legal Sciences at the Department of Administration. For two years I have also run courses in Science of State and Law at the Department of Internal Security.

After I was awarded a PhD degree in law, I ran lecture classes in the following subjects: Theory of State and Law, Theory and Philosophy of Law and Elements of Law for Sociologists.

At the Department of Law, I run lecture courses in: Science of State and Politics and the University Legal Counselling Service, whereas at the Department of Administration: courses in Introduction to Legal Sciences, Outline of Theory and Philosophy of Law and Theory of State.

Outside my home University, I ran lecture courses in the following subjects: Introduction to Legal Sciences, Foundations of Law, Outline of Theory and Philosophy of State and Law, Theory and Philosophy of Law, Principles of Legislative Techniques, Democratic State of Law, Science of State and Politics, Law for Economists and Legal Aspects of Informational Technology.

J) Academic care for students and doctors in the course of specialisation:

1) Care for the student members of the University Student Legal Counselling

Service at the Faculty of Law and Administration at Maria Curie-Skłodowska University;

2) The tutor of the year of the students of law at Maria Curie-Skłodowska University in the years 1992-1997;

3) The promotor of MA and Bachelor theses:

- I have been the promotor of 145 MA and 29 Bachelor theses at Maria Curie-Skłodowska University;
- outside UMCS, I have promoted over 200 Bachelor theses.

K) Academic care for PhD students as a tutor or an assistant dissertation advisor:

none

L) Internship at foreign and domestic scientific or academic centres:

none

M) Expert reports or other commissioned studies:

none

N) Participation in expert or competition panels:

none

O) Reviews of international and domestic projects:

none

P) Reviews of papers published in international and odmestic journals:

none

Q) Achievements other than listed under items III A-III P:

1) The Secretary of the Disciplinary Committee for the academic faculty of Maria Curie-Skłodowska University;

2) The Disciplinary Spokesman for students of the Faculty of Law and Administration at Maria Curie-Skłodowska University;

3) The Secretary of the Faculty Student Recruitment Committee at the Faculty of Law and Administration of Maria Curie-Skłodowska University in 1993 and 1998;

- 4) Member of the Student Recruitment Committee at Maria Curie-Skłodowska University in the following academic years: 2000/2001, 2001/2002, 2002/2003.
