KU Leuven (KUL) is a research-intensive, internationally oriented university with a strongly inter- and multidisciplinary focus. Several international surveys rank KU Leuven among the top ten European universities and among the top 80 in the world, taken into account the number of publications and citations and research funding and expenditure. KU Leuven is dedicated to education and research in nearly all fields. Its fifteen faculties offer education, while research activities are organized by the departments and research groups. All faculties and departments are clustered into three groups: Humanities and Social Sciences, Science, Engineering and Technology (SET), and Biomedical Sciences. The departments that will be involved in REINITIALISE with the aim of arranging transfer of knowledge to UMCS with regard to their key expertise and experiences, are:

- The Department of Electrical Engineering (ESAT) conducts research at a high international level and is responsible for education in the domains of electrical engineering, electronics, and information processing.
 - o Research group e-Media Research Lab belonging to the Faculty of Engineering Technology, investigates, develops and implements novel techniques to enhance the human condition with embodied media.
