

MARCH 1-2, 2023 | UMCS | ERASMUS+

ERASMUS DAYS 2023

Education in times of uncertainty

Forms of educational, psychological, and social support for students in higher education

INVITATION

The Faculty of Education and Psychology of Maria Curie-Skłodowska University in Lublin (Poland) will be hosting the third edition of Erasmus+ Days. This two-day online event provides an opportunity for international Partners to share experiences relating to the issue of forms of educational, psychological, and social support for students in higher education in times of uncertainty we live in. This web meeting will allow academics and researchers in education and psychology to exchange their practical knowledge and explore potential opportunities for collaboration. Everyone with an interest in this topic is warmly invited to attend. Participation is not a requirement.

Call for Proposals

Participants are invited to present their Universities and refer to the main theme of Erasmus+ Days 2023: Education in times of uncertainty. Forms of educational, psychological, and social support for students in higher education.

Support areas to discuss:

- disabilities and health problems
- barriers related to education and training programs
- cultural differences
- social and economic problems
- discrimination

The types of participation at the event:

- with a presentation (live)
- with a pre-recorded presentation
- as a listener.

Language of the event: English

DEADLINES:

Title of the presentation submission deadline: February 10, 2023

Abstract submission deadline: February 20, 2023

More information: dorota.chimicz@mail.umcs.pl

Submission: <https://forms.gle/hyvyCvV7qr2LRdpG7>